Cybersecurity Risk Management & Advisory Services for Family Offices, Executives, VIPs, High-Profile/High-Net Worth Individuals, their Families and Businesses.

Until now, only the world's largest companies have had the resources to protect their operations, intellectual property, assets, and employees from cyber threats. They defend themselves with enormous financial budgets, 24x7 security operations centers and a team of dozens of experienced security professionals.

With Aristo Private Client, you and your family will have the people, process, and technology of a Fortune 100 company. Your cyber risk plan should not be relegated to using inadequate consumer-based products. Aristo delivers world-class consulting, technology, operations and around the clock security analysts, enabling real-time incident response to ensure no threat goes undetected within your digital life.

Executive digital protection is both an ongoing consulting service and 24x7 managed concierge protection plan. The role of digital protection is to provide the confidentiality, integrity and availability of your data, devices and networks. This type of cyber security service comprises of various methods and perimeter setups, backed by highly experienced individuals monitoring platforms to guard against potential breaches that could otherwise be used by attackers to harass and extort from such individuals and or your ecosystem.

Our technology enables us to find and stop hidden threats that sneak past preventive security tools. By focusing on a specific set of attack surfaces, vulnerabilities and exploits, our platform helps us to protect our clients from persistent footholds, ransomware and other attacks. We combine automated detection with real human threat hunters so even the most advanced threat actors won't stand a chance against your defenses. High net worth families and children confront a frightening field of online predators. The potential for attack is exacerbated by prominence and large financial resources; the imperative to protect children from exploitation and risk couldn't be higher.

Executive Risk & Threat Assessment (High Profile/High Net Worth)

Aristo will identify potential cybersecurity issues that may impact our client's cybersecurity posture. This includes their personal, family, and business operations, including:

- Essential cybersecurity controls not in place or with very limited effectiveness

Based on targeted discussions with our client, their family and personnel, as well as a review of relevant documentation, we will gain an understanding of the following areas, that are in need of strategic security:

- Information security policies
- Personal, Family, Business information security
- Asset management
- Access control
- Data Encryption
- Physical and environmental security
- Operations security
- Communications security
- Supplier relationships
- Information security incident management

Risk & Advisory Consulting
